OUR PROCESS

Your journey with us begins here!

Consultation

Your journey begins with a personalized virtual or physical consultation session with our creative team, where we explore your vision, style inspiration, event details, and overall aesthetic. During this stage, design concepts, fabric recommendations and sketches tailored to your dream look are carefully developed.

Booking Confirmation

Once your design direction is finalized, your booking is officially secured upon confirmation of the required deposit. At this stage, your production slot is reserved and timelines are communicated accordingly.

Measurements and Fittings

Measurements are taken physically or virtually, depending on the client's location and availability. For clients unable to attend physical fittings, our creative team will conduct a virtual fitting session to guide you through how to properly wear your outfit to ensure a perfect fit.

Production

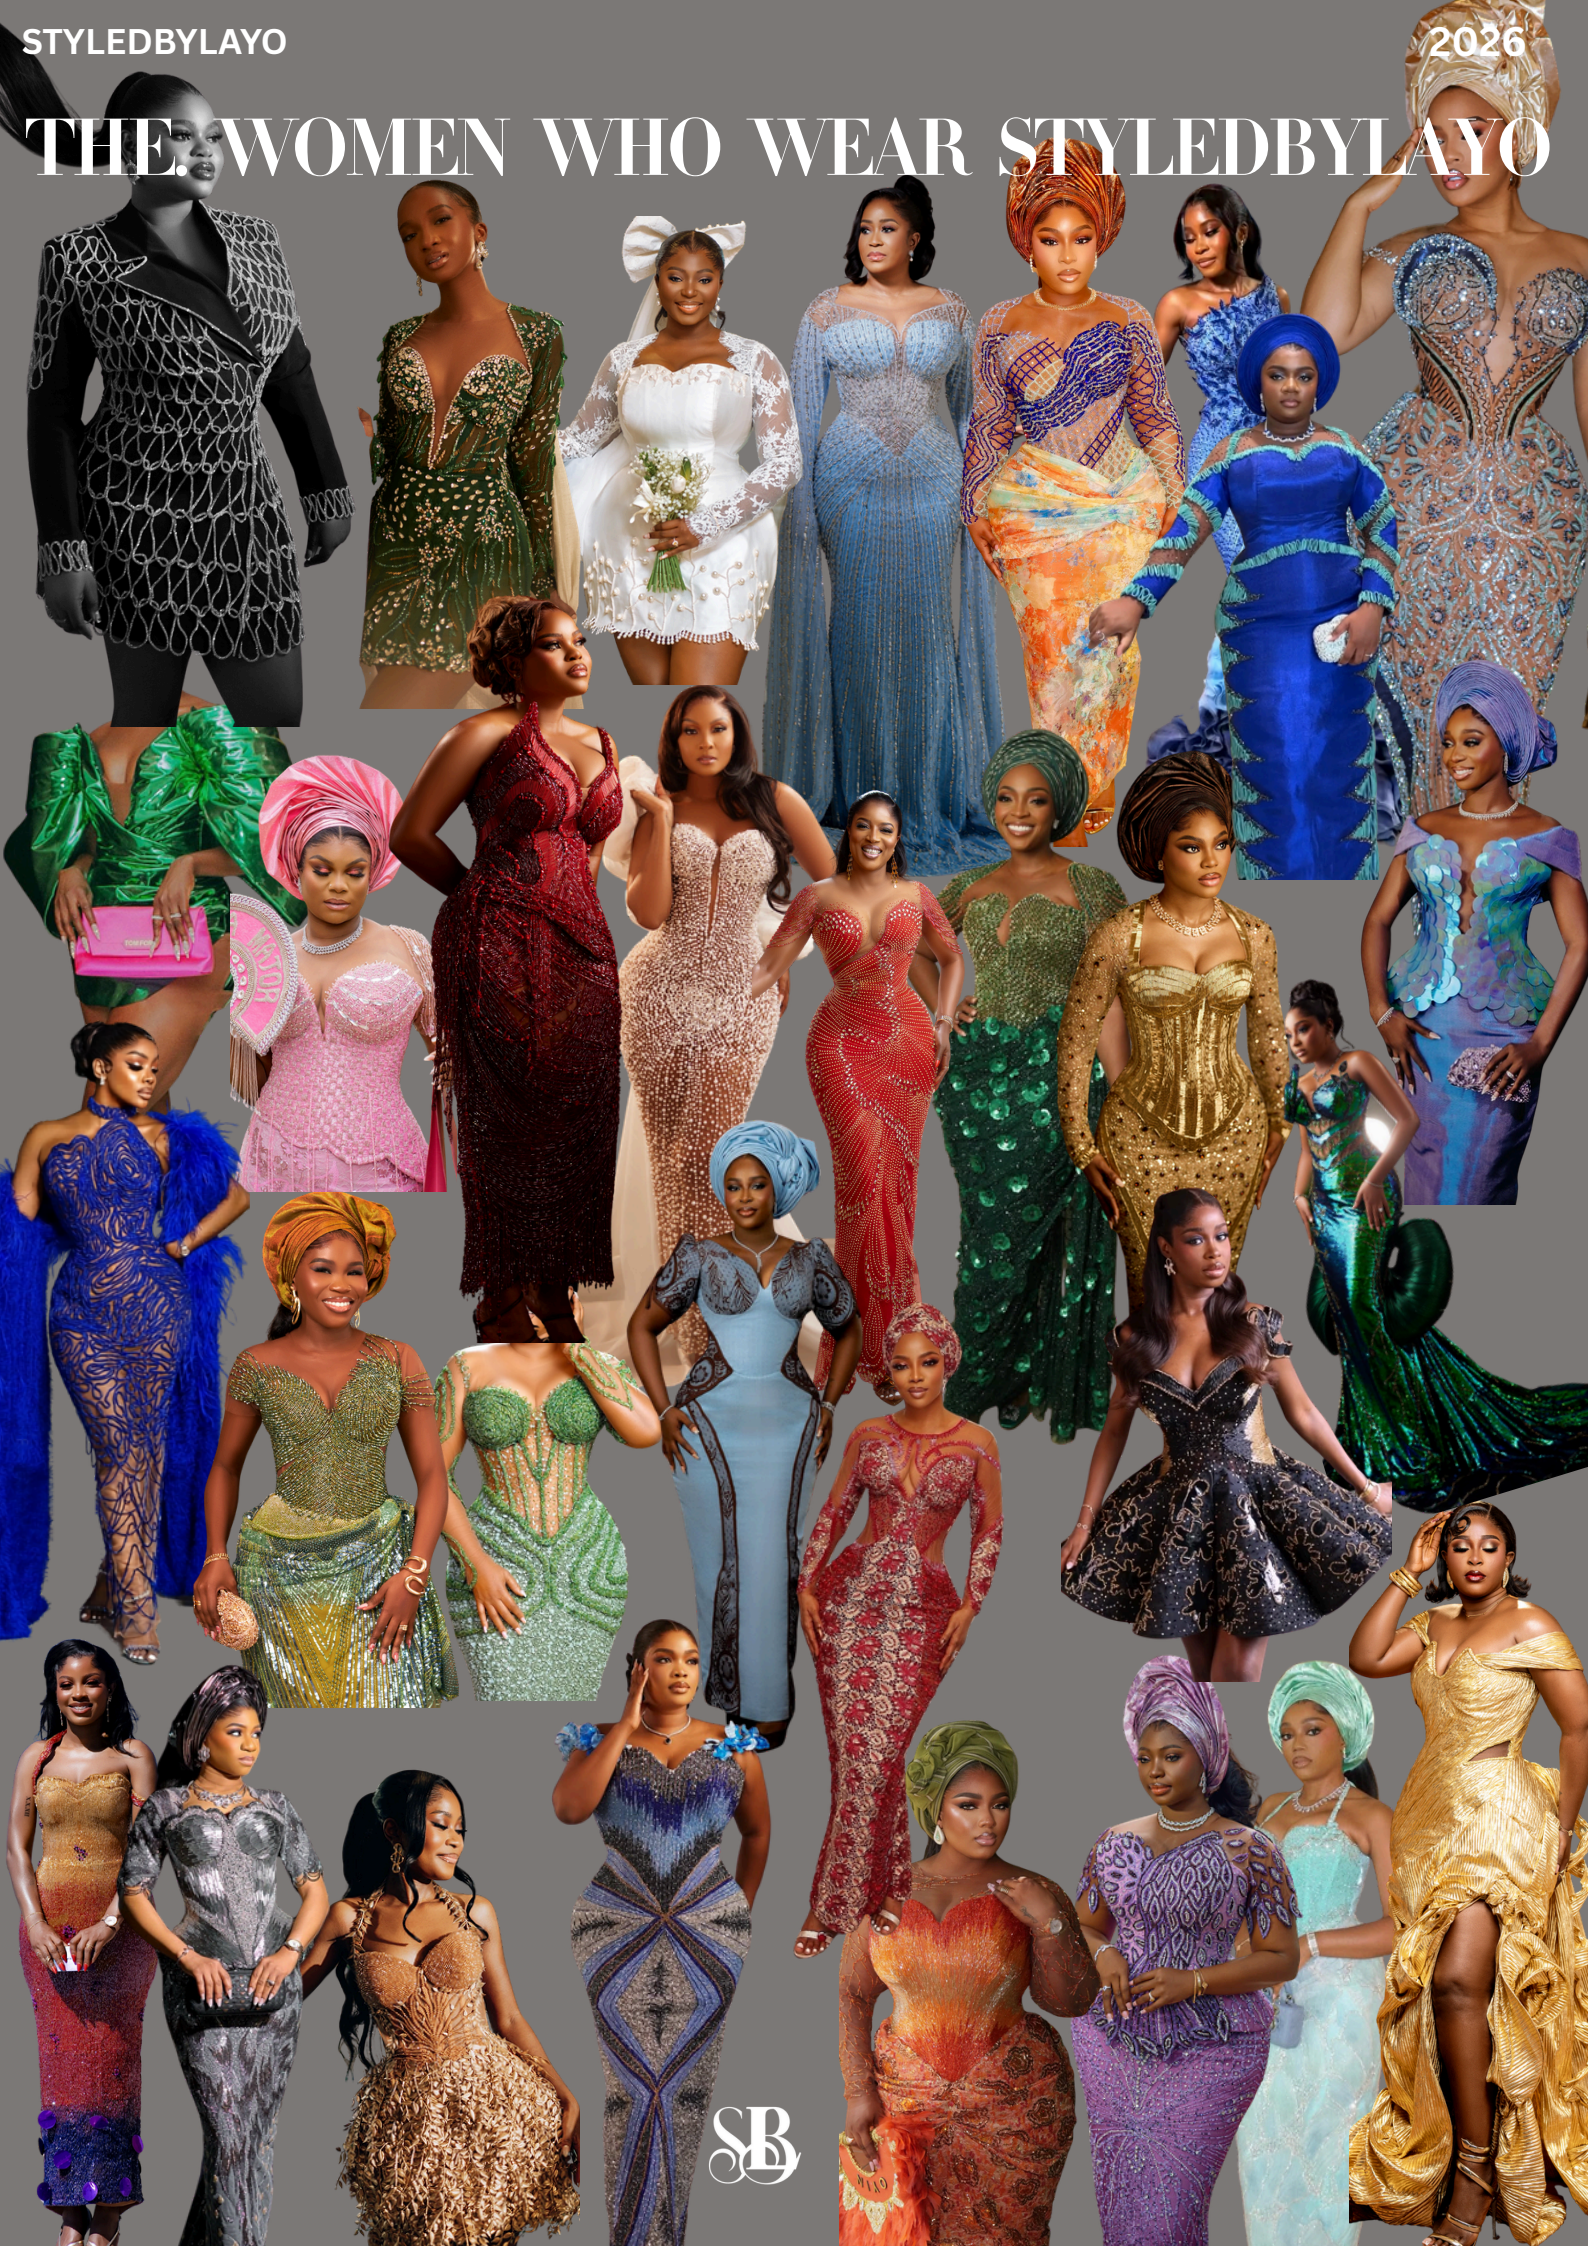

Once measurements and design details have been finalized, your outfit proceeds into production where every detail is carefully handcrafted with precision and attention to detail. During the process, progress updates will be shared to keep you informed every step of the way.

Final Delivery

Once production is completed and the outstanding balance has been cleared, your outfit is carefully packaged and prepared for pickup or delivery. International shipping arrangements are also handled at this stage where applicable.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Do I need a consultation to get started ?

Yes you do! A virtual or physical consultation session is required to get to understand your vision. The design direction, fabric selection, timelines, colour preference, style inspirations and overall expectations will be discussed in details and a sketch will be sent during this session.

Q: Will the consultation fee be deducted from the final amount?

No. Our consultation fee is non-deductible and non-refundable

Q: Do you make dresses for International clients?

We provide worldwide delivery service to clients across all countries. Consultations and measurements are done virtually and when the dress is completely ready, it will b shipped to your doorstep.

Q: How long before my event should I begin the process?

We recommend beginning your bridal process at least 4–8 months before your event date to allow ample time for consultation, production, fittings, and finishing. Earlier bookings are strongly advised for brides with multiple outfit changes or destination weddings.

Q: Do you accept express orders?

Express orders are subject to availability and production capacity, and would attract an additional express fee.
